

The

LADY HOURS

A True-Story

A prison's sexy Female Psychiatrist is ordered by a bitter Warden to counsel a Notorious Inmate to obtain incriminating evidence to send him to the gas chamber. Instead of spying, the sultry shrink is aroused by the intimate danger, defies her superior, and indulges in a torrid sexual affair with the man. However, when the infamous convict becomes eligible for parole, the obsessed lady doctor must either remain silent and destroy her marriage and career, or betray her lover – sending him to certain execution.

The LADY HOURS

Available: Feature-Length Screenplay.

Based on a true-story, THE LADY HOURS is the result of hundreds of inmate interviews and is the winner of the Samuel Goldwyn Screenwriting Award.

Writer Lawrence Riggins has won the STARZ, Samuel Goldwyn, Writers Digest, and StoryPros awards.

Email: dupin1809@hotmail.com